Mercury Notifications Launches New, Informative Website

September 9, 2021 –Woodbury, NY - Mercury Notifications, the world’s leading B2B life safety solutions provider and product manufacturer of the n.FORM® Mass Notification System, has announced the launch of its newly updated website.

As part of the company’s campaign to raise awareness about emergency communications and life-safety, the company underwent a complete refresh on their brand identity. The updated logo, now coupled with the new website provide for a more intuitive and user friendly experience while promoting their life safety message and the benefits of creating an eco-system that uses mass notification for sharing real time information during emergency and non-emergency situations.

With a company mission that focuses on protecting people, property and brand, Jodi Jacobs, Director of Marketing for Mercury Notifications says, “We were excited to create a site with an updated look and feel, as well as provide easier navigation and access to important technical information. Our goal for the new site was to help people see how easy our system can be integrated into a company’s overall life-safety strategy. “

Todd Eddy, Chief of Sales for the company adds, “As we move forward, we plan to continue to make the site scalable to meet the needs of our expanding verticals. In addition, a portal for our channel partners is planned to serve as an expanded resources section which will provide thought leadership regarding life-safety, building security and mass notification.”
